Cash Hollistah is a national hip-hop recording artist, poet, and philanthropist based in Salina, Kansas.

A passionate advocate for the arts, Hollistah cites a creative writing class he took as a sophomore in high school as the main catalyst for pursuing a career in music. That pursuit led him to create events in his hometown of Salina – from battle rap competition "Move The Crowd" to the monthly open-mic poetry series "ONEMiC." These events, along with his music and his work with students in schools and churches across the state, has gained him a reputation as a young community leader, as well as the admiration of many who benefit from his efforts.

In honor of Cash Hollistah's dedication to his community, Ad Astra Books & Coffee House (whose stage is home to "ONEMiC") presents The Cash Hollistah Scholarship.

In the spring of 2021, the scholarship will be awarded to a graduating senior in Central Kansas who shows merit in the field of community enrichment, as well as poetry, music, or visual art. Students must fulfill academic requirements, and plan to attend an institution of higher education in the fall of 2021.
